

SPECIALTY GARDENS

Introduction

Birds and butterflies provide an extra layer of animation to your garden and enhance its beauty. If the gardener provides suitable food, water, and protective cover from predators, the resident birds in the area will consume many insect pests. In addition to this benefit, they also reward us with color, song, and entertaining bird watching in the garden environment. Similarly butterflies are attracted to certain plants and add a delightful dimension to the garden.