

BUILDING THE BEDS

Enclosed Side Technique

Borders made of wood, rocks, bricks or cinder blocks keep soil from eroding and create a tidier looking raised bed garden. If you build frames from wood, use naturally rot-resistant woods such as cedar or redwood. Avoid commercially pressure-treated woods which contain arsenic compounds. Railroad ties may ooze creosote which is harmful to plants and humans.