

Compost Areas

Composting is an excellent way to teach the complete growing cycle. Provide an area to incorporate the method of composting to be used. This can be as simple as layering garden waste on the ground to an elaborate set of bins to hold decomposing materials. Click here to link to Composting for more information.