

Sunlight

Six hours of direct sunlight are necessary for growing most flowers and vegetables.

If possible, monitor potential sites at different times of the day and in different seasons, especially winter, to determine shade patterns created by nearby trees or buildings. Remember, shadows are longer in winter than in summer. Click here to link to Garden Design Sun Exposure for more information.